

Marijuana destroys children's minds and ruins adults' lives. For these and other reasons it is an illegal product under federal law. States that choose to experiment with expanding the already too frequent use of this dangerous drug will be violating federal law as well as causing more social harm to their communities. I strongly urge the federal government to do what it can to prevent these misguided efforts.

- Dr. William Bennett, Former Director of the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy